

A circular portrait of Giles Pyman, a man with dark hair and a goatee, wearing a dark turtleneck sweater. He is looking slightly to the right of the camera.

English National 2015 GILES PYMAN - THACKA

Giles runs the Thacka flock in Stainton, Cumbria with his wife Gillian, son Tom and daughter Sarah. After losing his pure flock of Texels to the foot and mouth outbreak in 2001, he joined the Texel Society and restocked with pedigree Texels and Dutch Texels.

The Thacka flock breeds sheep for both the pedigree and commercial markets with good skin, carcass and breed character.

As well as showing Giles has judged many local shows and is honoured to be asked to judge the English National Sale at Worcester.